

Fiction vs Nonfiction

Buzzer Game

Make teams of preferably two. Each team has to 'buzz' (raise hand, hit an item, etc.) first to answer. The other team could steal. After discussing fiction and nonfiction, this game could be a nice wrap-up. You could even use this for review. The teacher can choose any phrases below.

The team with the most points win.

USUALLY HAS PHOTOS, GRAPHS, AND/ OR CHARTS - nonfiction

IS BASED ON REAL PEOPLE - nonfiction

FOCUSES ON A PROBLEM AND SOLUTION - FICTION

TALKS ABOUT REAL EVENTS - nonfiction

HAS CHARACTERS AND SETTING - FICTION

THERE ARE USUALLY ILLUSTRATIONS - FICTION

POEMS, STORIES, NOVELS, PLAYS - FICTION

NEWSPAPER, TEXTBOOK, AUTOBIOGRAPHIES - nonfiction

READ MOSTLY FOR LEARNING NEW THINGS - nonfiction
